God's desire for man has always been for man to prosper and be successful in all that he does. From the very beginning, when God told Adam: "be fruitful, multiply, replenish the earth, subdue it and take dominion (Genesis 1:28); God wanted man to prosper.

God told Joshua to meditate in the Word so that he could observe and do what he saw, that would make his way prosperous and successful in all that he did.

God has told us how to accomplish that prosperity and success in our lives: "that you may prosper and be in health, even as your soul prospers." [3 John 2]. Even as: as we prosper our soul through the Word of God, we observe God's Word and make the determination to carry out every assignment we receive from God and His Word.
